FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Opera Columbus offers production management services to The Ohio State School of Music's Opera/Music Theatre Program for the 2010-2011 school year
(Columbus, OH)

ORGANIZATION: Opera Columbus, The Ohio State University School of Music

DURATION: 2010-2011 school year; September 2010 – June 2011

DESCRIPTION: Kevin Lohr, in auspices with Opera Columbus, will provide production management services for The Ohio State University School of Music Opera/Music Theatre Program for the 2010-2011 academic year. These services will be provided for 2 offerings: an opera scenes program and a fully staged opera.

Mr. Lohr has worked for Opera Columbus as the Director of Production since February of 2006, but has served as a full-time employee of Opera Columbus in various capacities since 2003. Mr. Lohr's long-time association with The Ohio State University extends back to 1988 as production stage manager for many productions ranging from Carmen to A Little Night Music. Most recently, he managed their production of Mozart's The Marriage of Figaro (May, 2009).

"Production management services" include management of each production's operating budget, development and management of production-related schedules, coordination of design personnel, and management of two Graduate Administrative Associates. As part of this agreement, Opera Columbus will offer OSU's program usage of various production-related items.
